

A VIRGIN PRAIRIE IN ILLINOIS.

H. A. GLEASON.

Twenty miles northeast of Champaign is a five-acre strip of untouched prairie lying along a small stream. It contains a large number of the rare species of prairie plants, notably Cypripedium candidum and Lilium umbellatum. It is highly important that the strip should be preserved, and negotiations to that effect are already under way.